

Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, photographed on their departure for a holiday in France. They will return to the legation in Washington in October.
International.

Country home of Secretary of War John W. Weeks on Mt. Prospect at Lancaster, N. H. President Harding accepted the Secretary's invitation to spend several days there on his New England trip.
Underwood & Underwood.

A Japanese wedding at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Kimura in New York. The brides and bridegrooms are shown facing each other. They are married "upon the honor of their own wisdom," in the Oriental phrase.
International.

Mme. Amie Mouroux, French medallist, who is making a medal of President Harding for the French Government. Mme. Mouroux is the first woman to win the Prix de Rome in Paris.
(c) Harris & Ewing.

Abbot Seziken Arai, head of the Zen sect of Buddhists in Japan, accompanied by one of his priests (also shown in the photograph), is to tour the United States and may call on the President.
Underwood & Underwood.

William D. Scott, leader of the caravan of Brooklyn families bound for Idaho by automobile, and the rest of the Scott family.
Paul Thompson.

A. J. Frey, appointed one of the vice-presidents of the Shipping Board to help Chairman Lasker. Mr. Frey will be allocation chief.
International.

This photograph shows one of the trailers attached to each automobile bound from Brooklyn to Idaho. These trailers contain beds, cooking utensils and other indispensables, and are large enough to house the travellers at night.
International.

Two of the automobile party who are bound for Buhl, Idaho, where they will build bungalows and grow crops on land reclaimed from the waste by irrigation.
International.